Custom Color Development Policy

Developing a custom color requires time, skill and vast knowledge of ceramic materials. Custom color request will be considered based on a minimum order of 500 square feet. Thin Brick Solutions requires a development fee of $500 for custom color development, the cost of any third-party testing will be the customer's responsibility. An additional 10% up charge will be applied to a custom color order that is not in our current product line. Typically, the timeline for development can take from 4 to 6 weeks, we recommend that you check with Thin Brick Solutions for our current lead times.
